

Article Overview

Brasguay and Intercable Automotive Solutions are key suppliers of high-voltage busbars suitable for industrial and e-mobility applications in Paraguay.

Local Supplier: Brasguay

Brasguay is a Paraguayan company with over 38 years of experience in the distribution of electrical materials and solutions for complex systems . They specialize in:

- o Distribution of high-quality electrical components
- o Design, planning, and installation of substations
- o Development and fabrication of customized solutions for high-voltage systems
- o Technical support for complex electrical projects Brasguay's local presence ensures quick access, project-specific customization, and reliable after-sales support, making them a strong choice for Paraguayan projects.

International Supplier: Intercable Automotive Solutions

Intercable Automotive Solutions (IAS), part of Aptiv, provides high-voltage busbars for electric vehicles and industrial applications . Key features include:

- o Purpose-designed copper and aluminum busbars supporting high voltages
- o Patented fuse boxes for protection against surges, overloading, and short circuits
- o Advanced simulation and manufacturing technologies for optimized performance
- o Space-efficient designs that can support up to 15% more power than equivalent cables
- o Automated assembly for precision and reliability IAS's global reach allows them to deliver customized solutions to Paraguay, particularly for projects requiring cutting-edge e-mobility or industrial power distribution systems.

Choosing a Supplier

When selecting a high-voltage busbar supplier in Paraguay, consider:

- o Project scale and voltage requirements: Local suppliers like Brasguay are ideal for standard industrial projects, while IAS is suited for high-tech or EV-related applications.
- o Customization and technical support: Both suppliers offer tailored solutions, but IAS provides advanced simulation and design capabilities.

Paraguay High Voltage Busbar Systems Company

o Delivery and logistics: Brasguay offers local distribution, reducing lead times, whereas IAS can ship internationally with global support. For Paraguayan projects, Brasguay is the primary local partner, while Intercable Automotive Solutions can complement with specialized high-voltage and e-mobility busbar solutions.
