

Article Overview

SN Connectors (Smart Type) are available in South Africa through local manufacturers and distributors such as Connector Technology, ESPA Technologies, Communica, and Schneider Electric.

Key Suppliers and Manufacturers

1. Connector Technology Connector Technology is one of South Africa's largest stockists of interconnect products, offering a wide range of connectors and cables for telecommunications, automotive, mining, security, and commercial applications. They distribute products from manufacturers like Dinkle, Cvilux, Don Connex, and Kinsun, which may include SN Smart Type connectors suitable for industrial and electronic use .
2. ESPA Technologies ESPA Technologies specializes in manufacturing high-quality terminals, connectors, wire accessories, and bespoke stamped components. They provide tailored solutions for electrical and industrial applications, making them a reliable source for direct supply of SN Smart Type connectors .
3. Comunica South Africa Communica offers a broad range of connectors, including power and backplane connectors. Their catalog includes modular and protected modules compatible with industrial and electronic systems, which may include SN Smart Type connectors. Detailed datasheets and specifications are available for each product .
4. Schneider Electric South Africa Schneider Electric provides a variety of electrical connectors and components through their online shop. They offer direct supply options and support for industrial and commercial applications, including modular and smart connector types .

Considerations for Direct Supply

- o Compatibility: Ensure the SN Smart Type connectors match your system's voltage, current, and signal requirements.
- o Bulk Orders: Contact manufacturers directly for bulk pricing and lead times.
- o Technical Support: Many suppliers provide datasheets, schematics, and technical assistance to ensure proper integration.
- o Customization: ESPA Technologies and some distributors offer bespoke solutions if standard connectors do not meet your specifications. For direct supply, it is recommended to contact these manufacturers or distributors via their websites or sales teams to confirm availability, request quotations, and obtain technical specifications. This ensures you receive connectors that meet your project requirements efficiently.
